Ian Bruce Stevens

Ian was born in Brisbane on 27th July, 1947, the son of Frederick William Stevens and Nancy Alumward Stevens (nee Sim).

His early years were spent in Brisbane, Sydney & Melbourne. He attended primary school & high school in Melbourne, matriculating from Melbourne High School in 1966.

After matriculation he worked for the Commonwealth Government (cartography department).

During this work he became interested in drafting & learned the skills involved.

In 1973 he moved to Brisbane where he worked as a draftsman (& later computer draftsman), this being his major occupation.

He didn't marry, preferring to remain single. His father passed away in 1966 & his mother in 1987.

He loved flying & for single engine planes was a qualified pilot with an Instrument Rating & Instructor's Certificate.

As a person he was talented, ethical, reliable, kind & considerate. Let us be thankful for Ian's life.
